

from The North County News, Lifestyles Section, September 8, 2004:

Join in a first Fall-Arts-Weekend

The Peekskill Project

September 18, 11-6 p.m.

September 19, 11-5 p.m.

Nine prominent art curators have selected more than 120 artists from the New York Boroughs, Westchester County and surrounding region, to create site specific installations inspired by Peekskill's rich history, burgeoning artists' district, natural environment and diverse population. Works will be situated in various locations including The Paramount Center for the Arts, City Hall, Hudson Valley Center for Contemporary Art, local art galleries, storefront windows, the waterfront, and town parks.

Curators

Natalie Angles, Paul Clay, Erin Donnelly, Lance Fung, Koan Jeff-Baysa, Alison Levy, Jessica Rogers, Sue Stoffel, Joseph R. Wolin

Saturday & Sunday, 2 - 3:30 p.m. Guided tours at 2 p.m. at the gazebo on the corner of N. Division and Park streets

Sunday, 8 p.m. - After party with DJ Alex English
& Friends at PJ Kelly's (Riverfront Green Park), sponsored by HVCCA, Peekskill BID and Ginsburg Development Corporation.

Maps available at the Peekskill Train Station, the Ferry go Round tent at the river front, the gazebo on the corner of Park and North Division and Hudson Valley Center for Contemporary Art, 1701 Main Street. Information: 914-788-7166; travel information: www.hvcca.com.

pictured: Tamar Hirschl with her work, Vestiges of the Past, at Peekskill Podiatry Group.
Her installation explores the disappearance of cultures through genocide.